

The World Series Poker Events

Almost every kind of people had carried way bracelets in the World Series

Poker history. Holistic practitioner turned millionaire, television producer turned millionaire are some of the stunning changes after one wins the major event in the World Series Poker much to the envy of onlookers.

There can be times when every one may comment on every kind of hand you play. They may criticize and frown over most of your moves. They may not like the way you are dressed up and the way you carry yourself, but whatever others say, if you are going to beat all the participants in some way or the other everyone is going to praise you. People may not support you through the strategies in the World Series Poker but once you win they are behind you.

There have been several stances when people were making faces and commenting in a raw and bad manner on the way a particular player played in World Series Poker, but eventually the most criticized player would have turned to be the champion, beating several 1000s of people behind them. Be yourself and play yourself right, especially in tourneys like World Series Poker.

H.O.R.S.E tournament is one of the highlights of World Series Poker events. In the H.O.R.S.E tournament holdem, Omaha, razz, stud and eight or better are all played in a particular table in each round. Understanding all these 5 variants pretty well is the only way to play this game better. Even if you are going to be weak in one of the variants of H.O.R.S.E tournament you are likely to have a less advantage than others who know all the 5 games and the varying strategies.

Well, the final word would be to not feel discouraged if you have been eliminated from the World Series Poker events. World Series Poker is definitely a big event, it is advantageous if you win, but the world and opportunity is still open even after you loose. Losing in these games is not the end of your world! Feel pepped.
