

A Review and History of Lifestyles condoms

Lifestyles is a popular condom company that produces a wide variety of different types of condoms, and which submits their condoms to a large number of tests to ensure that their products guarantee the absolute best when it comes to protection. The standard Lifestyles condom is the Lifestyles Lubricated, which besides being lubricated and containing a reservoir tip, comes in an unique flared and bulbous shape. All of this combined leads to both the wearer and their partner sharing a friction-free, natural-feeling experience. Looking for something a little more unusual? Lifestyles offers its Lifestyles Kiss of Mint condom, a non-lubricated condom that is both mint-scented and mint-flavored. There's also the Lifestyles Tuxedo condom, a black-colored condom with a slightly flared shape, which is perfect for adding that extra touch of sensuality to that next special occasion. Looking for something a little more exciting? The Lifestyles His n' Her Pleasure is designed to provide extra stimulation for both partners, as it has both an oversized tip and ribbing. And for the truly adventurous, there's the Lifestyles Dual Pleasure, which with its 15% larger head, stretchable latex, and unique shape is designed to increase both stimulation and comfort during your intimacy.

Lifestyles condoms also come in additional types for those of you with specific needs for your condoms. For those who are into thin condoms, Lifestyles has the Lifestyles Ultra Thin, a condom which is 21% thinner than a regular condom, and which contains Lifestyles' unique stretchable latex, which helps reduce stress placed on the condom. For those who are interested in sensitivity, there's the Lifestyles Ultra Sensitive, which is a thin, yet very strong condom, designed with a contour shape that allows its user to experience greater amounts of contact and sensitivity. Finally, there's the Lifestyles Snugger Fit condom, which have a special contour shape which provides a closer, snugger fit to help provide more sensitivity and comfort to its wearer. Do all these condom choices sound good to you? Well, the good news is that with the Lifestyles Sampler Pack, you can choose up to four different types of condoms to try out! Plus, with condoms being fairly inexpensive, it's easy to buy them wholesale so that you can have plenty on hand for when you need them. Lifestyles also offers a number of lubricants and vibrating rings to help make your next big night even more intense.

Are you wondering how to use a condom? How to put on a condom is a question that often comes up when the inexperienced (and sometimes, the less so) are trying out condoms for the first time. Putting on a condom is simple, but needs to be done correctly each time. Put on the condom as soon as you are erect and before it comes in contact with your partner's body. While squeezing the reservoir tip, unroll the condom all the way down to the base. After sex is over, pull out slowly while holding onto the condom at the base. Make sure to be careful when opening the packaging, and check to see that the condom is not damaged in any way before putting it on. And that's how to put on a condom!

Condoms are an excellent choice when it comes to safe sex, as when used correctly, they are effective not only against preventing pregnancy, but also when it comes to STD and AIDS prevention. You couldn't ask for more than that when it comes to contraceptives, right? Keep it safe and be sure to buy Lifestyles condoms when you're choosing your birth control!
