

VegasSocialClub.com Dismisses Paris Hilton Affiliation

These days Paris Hilton is into everything from modeling and product endorsements, to music and acting (and trying to stay out of trouble in between). According to company representative Trent Andersen, one thing she's not into is ownership of VegasSocialClub.com. "It's no secret that Paris Hilton has significant ties to Las Vegas, but she is not affiliated with VegasSocialClub.com in any way" explains Andersen.

The past few months have been interesting for the independent web site, which offers Las Vegas travel booking and Vegas nightclub passes. The story might have surfaced by way of a late 2007 rumored Paris Hilton appearance at a VegasSocialClub.com private party.

"We've had several parties in Vegas, but as far as we know, Paris Hilton has never attended" says Andersen. "Despite her well-known affiliation with Vegas itself, we have no problem admitting that she has probably never heard of our online operation".

Entertained by the rumor, VegasSocialClub.com says it is certainly enjoying the publicity, but has no plans to sell to Paris Hilton or anyone else. Web hits and business in general have recently been up as much as 300% for the company.
